

Interested in working for Australia's fastest growing full service audiology company?

Immediate employment opportunities:

Bundaberg, Queensland

We are seeking a full-time audiologist for our new clinic in Bundaberg. Five hours north of Brisbane and gateway to the Great Barrier Reef, Bundaberg is a key regional hub servicing a population of 100,000 people, with three major hospitals and a university campus.

Other employment opportunities are available across New South Wales (including Randwick) in the coming months.

Mackay, Queensland

Located in the heart of the Whitsunday region, Attune Hearing has a well established, full service audiology clinic. We are seeking an audiologist to join our team and supplement increasing demand for our services in the region.

Attune is the fastest growing full service audiology company in Australia. Due to our rapid growth, we invite expressions of interest from audiologists across Australia in joining the Attune team.

Do what you love to do within one professional organisation
